

The FCC is obligated to punish the above performers, mtv, and cbs for the superbowl incident. When are you people going to draw a line that is not to be crossed? Many Americans are starting to get very aggitated with your apathy. Crude language, phrases, and sexual situations have no place on television. We are already burdened beyond belief trying to raise our children to be moral and productive. Irresponsibility is not a 1st amendment right. Put an end to this problem. Fine these people and companies several $million each for every incident and apply it toward to budget deficit. The superbowl incident was not an accident. Justin had no business grabbing anyone's breast on prime time TV.
